

How Long Will It Take Washington to Spend What Was Supposed to Be Your Tax Relief?

The Budget Resolution called for returning $550 Billion to American taxpayers in an effort to help the economy and create jobs. The actual Economic Growth Package being sent to the President only provides $330 Billion for this purpose, meaning that $220 Billion is left on the table for Washington to spend.

Washington is already giving $20 Billion of your money to State governments. In addition, approximately $8 Billion will be spent to extend unemployment insurance.

DAY ONE: Washington has spent $28 Billion of the money that under the Budget was supposed to go to taxpayers to help the economy and create jobs.
